Hybrid range: why choose between comfort and warmth?

Both down jackets and softshells, Acton and Luton protect against the cold and allow freedom of movement at work.

Their design combines wind protection, flexibility and comfort. Protection against the cold is provided by the down jacket around the torso (where the vital organs are located) and flexibility around the lower torso and arms for free movement.

Acton or Luton can be worn on their own or as a 2nd layer under a waterproof jacket like Grafiz. This hybrid range is perfect for both indoor and outdoor work.
